A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

THE ADVERTISEMENT OF THE CARSON
SOAP WORKS which appears in to-day's State Journal was composed and written by me before the manager or workman of the Carson Soap Works knew what piece of soap was I am surprised at L. S. Greenlaw appropriating an advertisement written by a person not having charge of the educational interests of a certain portion of our State. Were I connected with institutions of learning I would not appropriate the simple composition of a hard-headed son of toll, endeavoring to advance my own interests at the expense of the public.

A GOOD APPRENTICE LAW.

Within a few years the various "Trade Unions" in this country have taken special pains to limit the number of apprentices in all mechanical trades—the object being to "close the doors" except to a few, and in this way keep the mechanical population down to a minimum, and thereby perpetuate high wages to the favored few. We are advocates of liberal wages for every honest toiler for bread, whether in agricultural, mechanical or professional pursuits, but we never wish to see or hear of a monopoly in brain or brawn. Every boy should be permitted to learn a trade if he so desires, and the great field of industry should be open to all of God's children. Monopoly in labor is the idea is absurd, un-republican, anti-Christian. The State of Pennsylvania has long suffered by the tyranny of these so-called "Trade Unions," the fruit of which has fructified in almost daily arson, robbery and murder. All her coal-fields are under the surveillance of trade leagues, which in various ways disturb and demoralize that great industry—making every consumer in the country pay tribute to their inordinate greed. To correct that great and growing evil the Legislature of Pennsylvania has just passed an act, entitled "An Apprenticeship Law," which punishes, either by fine or imprisonment, all persons who attempt to prevent any mechanic, employer or corporation from taking as many minor apprentices as they desire. Such a law was urgently needed in Pennsylvania, and is almost as equally required in every State of the Union.

THE TWO COLORS.

The Philadelphia correspondent of the Boston Journal (which is positively narrow and microscopic in its political views), says, "Rothermel's picture of the 'Battle of Gettysburg,' but is objectionable on account of its reviving memories of a time which we had agreed to make no allusion to. In this Centennial era of peace, good will and unity, we might object to the exhibition of any painting at the International Exposition which trifled with the sensitiveness of either section of the Union, but to day we believe both Northern and Southern people have outgrown their prejudices, to a very great extent, and could examine any battle-scene without exciting the least ill will or hostility. Especially do we know that the gallant veterans of both sections—the brave boys in blue and the chivalric boys in grey—can stand side by side and look at any picture or painting of that great strife, and yet have none but sentiments of admiration for the braver and heroism that is indigenous to the American people."

Lozano & Co., the great gift autocrats of the world, give a performance at the Opera House this evening. All who attend will receive a prize. The leading prize will be a set of furniture.

Don't fail to attend the meeting in the M. E. Church next Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of talking over the proposed Methodist Seminary. Let every body and all his relations attend. A long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether, will give Reno that institution.

ODD FELLOWS PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.—The Odd Fellows who have signed as members of the Mutual Protective Association are notified to meet at Truckee Lodge Hall next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at which time it is proposed to effect a permanent organization.

The weather yesterday was as warm as we could wish it this Summer.

THE CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION.

The Curious and Beautiful Things in Horticultural Hall—The Display of Tropical and Rare Plants—The Wax Work—Curious Musical Instrument—Mineral Exhibits of Foreign Countries—Etc.

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.

EDITOR RENO JOURNAL.—A great many people think that there is not much to be seen in

HORTICULTURAL HALL, And so pass it by, but there is a great deal to be seen. Besides the display of tropical and rare plants, which is very large, there are many curious and beautiful things. Of course a great variety of horticultural tools and florists supplies are there. In one of the ante rooms is some of the best waxwork in flowers and fruits we have seen at any time or place. Apples, peaches, pears, grapes and melons so very like the natural fruit, that if it were not for the inscription above them and the stubborn fact that in this climate such things are not produced at this time of the year, one could almost be qualified they are genuine. There is one half of a peach with a perfect representation of the sort of skin that forms over fruit when cut and just beginning to dry on the exposed surface. Flowers too are so perfectly imitated that the sense of smell has to be brought into requisition before the question of their genuineness can be determined. The flowers that grow in this climate are arranged in neat beds in front of, and around the building. A good deal of space is occupied by them, the grounds of the Horticultural Department embracing forty acres. This building is intended to be permanent, and cost $200,000. Foreign nations are well represented here, even China and Japan contributing. The hall has several galleries and promenades. In the gallery at the rear is a

CURIOS MUSICAL INSTRUMENT, Which every now and then raises its voice. This machine is made to read music automatically, by means of electricity, and will play any piece. The notes, instead of being printed in the usual manner, are perforated through the paper, which passes over a metal plate. The paper being a non-conductor, no current is formed, and the electricity does not pass until one of the feelers or readers encounters a perforation, when, touching the metal plate, it completes the circuit and the note is telegraphed to the corresponding performing magnet. The inventors make the exhibition of it pay by the sale of printed explanations of it at five cents a copy. While speaking of

INGENIOUS MACHINES, We may mention one that the War Department has in the Government Building. It is a cutter, and when we saw it, it was at work cutting out fourteen thicknesses of cloth. The cutting arrangement something in the shape of an upright saw, which glides through even twenty thicknesses with ease, shaving them off quite evenly, and cutting out garments not only forty or fifty times as fast, but with much greater exactness and more economically than can be done by hand. The

PRINTING PRESS Of the New York Times in Machinery Hall is very interesting to watch. It runs off papers with extreme rapidity, laying them down on two sides at once. The New York Herald, Sun and Times all have presses set up here, and every day run off editions of the day's paper, which are distributed gratuitously. This morning

THE BUTCHERS Of Philadelphia had a grand parade in honor of the Centennial. The procession was quite long, and they made quite a neat appearance in their white suits and silk hats as they rode along. They were determined to have enough music, and had so many bands and so near together that they seriously interfered with one another. This afternoon we spent a short time in examining the

MINERAL EXHIBITS in the main building and annex. In the latter several of the Eastern States are to be represented. This exhibition is to be in charge of Mr. Raymond, U. S. Mineral Commissioner. Only a small portion of the collections for this department have been placed in position, and this is chiefly coal from Ohio. Chili displays in the main building some of the most beautiful specimens of silver ores ever found in any country. But the collection is not very large and would scarcely fill one of the cases in Nevada's Department. The crystals of ruby silver are the most beautiful ones we have ever seen. One of these specimens the attendant informed us was for sale, the price asked $4,000. The intrinsic value is about $25. There are no masses, however, of the Ruby ore to be found in this or any other collection here that will compare favorably with the specimens from Austria. Chili has also several fine specimens of native silver and of the different ores found in that country, and for a small collection this is certainly the most valuable one we have yet seen. Norway shows some of the best specimens of wire silver on exhibition, a few fine crystals of quartz and iron pyrites, samples of apatite, nickel, cobalt, copper and iron, also some slags from nickel smelting furnaces, but the beauty of the whole mineral display from this country is marred by showing some silver gilded plaster Paris casts to represent silver bars in a framework which surmounts the handsome silver specimens. Some of the corners of these sham silver bars have been broken off thus exposing the fraud. Spain exhibits some good specimens of silver ores. One large mass of argentite, which weighs about two tons, attracts considerable attention. Canada has the best exhibit of her mineral resources we have seen from any foreign nation. The greater portion of the collection was made and exhibited by the Geological Survey of that country. It embraces samples of the different rock formations, polished specimens of the various building stones, beautiful monuments of granite, marble and serpentine, slabs of roofing slates, pyramids of coal showing the width of the veins and that mineral just as it occurs. One of these we noticed was 36 feet high. There are also specimens of the lead, iron, silver and copper ores, large gold nuggets and a pyramid representing the gold product of British Columbia from 1838 to 1875, $38,166,970. Amethyst crystals, lithographic stones, conglomerates and fire clays, with bricks, retorts and crucibles made therefrom. The Dominion Plumbago Co., of Canada, have a fine case, showing the undressed ore from their mines, one block of which weighs 4,870 pounds and contains 60 per cent of carbon. Samples of lead pencils, crucibles, melting pots, retorts, stove-polish, and the different grades of the mineral used in electrotyping, lubricating, shot towers, blast furnaces, by organ builders, glass makers, boat builders and in paints. Many other countries have also displays of their mineral resources, but they are not yet arranged for exhibition. We hear every day some one inquiring for the silver bullion to be exhibited from the Comstock, and so often has their inquiry been made at the Smithsonian Section, that one of the attendants placed a label on a large safe stating that the $10,000,000 of bullion was in it. This very soon attracted a large crowd of persons. No display in any of the buildings would be looked upon with greater interest than a pyramid of silver bricks from Nevada, and we think the managers have made a mistake in not having a few bars of bullion on exhibition here. The mineral collection is a very creditable one, but scarcely one-tenth of the visitors are interested in exhibitions of that kind.

FRAZER. PHILIP ROACH, accompanied by Congressman Luttrell, had a very satisfactory interview with President Grant Thursday on the Chinese question. The President assured them that he was earnestly impressed with the magnitude of the evils complained of by the Pacific Coast and promised to do all in his power to secure the desired modification of the treaty.

SOMETHING NEW.—On and after this date the ladies and gentlemen of Reno and the public in general will find at the Capital Restaurant the following refreshments: Strawberries and Cream, Vanilla Ice Cream, Lemon Ice Cream, Water Ices, Roman Punch, Orange Sherbet, Lemon Sherbet, Frozen Fruit, Tutti Tutti Ice Cream, Cake, etc., etc. 24-31

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

Presidential Speculations. New York, May 26. The Times gives a table this morning on the Cincinnati Convention, showing how the votes are at present disposed. This shows the following result: Blaine, 257; Morton, 119; Brewster, 109; Conkling, 77; Hartranft, 58; Hayes, 48; Jewell, 10; Washburn, 2, unknown, 27, yet to be elected, 45. The Times says: "Unless against a very objectionable Democratic nominee, we don't think that Mr. Conkling could carry his own State. He represents nothing to the 50,000 doubtful votes who will decide the election in this State, save party short comings, of which all good men are ashamed, and methods of political action which are stamped with public disapproval."

It is clear that the revolt against Tilden has more than a personal significance, or we may be inclined to doubt the sincerity of Chief Justice Church's declaimer of a desire to see the Democratic candidate taken from New York, for Chief Justice Church, with Seymour's latent symptoms of the Presidential fever, like him, cannot speak upon a subject save with many mental reservations. But the declaration of the Albany Conference against the pretensions that have been set up in behalf of this State, and in favor of conceding the Democratic nomination to the West, seems to have a wider meaning, and one that is partly elucidated by the mention of Hendricks and Thurman as available men. In either case availability simply means readiness to trim and temporize on the financial issue. Carry the interpretation one step further, and we have what is equivalent to an acknowledgement of the strength of the rag money section of the party, and of the necessity for conciliation at St. Louis."

The rush for the Black Hills increases. A Utah paper tells of a man who went through there flying, the other day, with one shirt and a hundred and fifty rounds of catridges.

SUPPOSED SUICIDE.—A man named John J. Macdonald died in his room at Mrs. Churchill's lodging house last night about 10 o'clock under circumstances which lead to the belief that he committed suicide by taking some kind of an opiate, at present unknown. He retired at his room at 2 a. m. yesterday morning. In the evening Mr. J. C. Harl entered his room and found him in a stupor, from which it was impossible to arouse him. Drs. Hogan and Dawson were summoned, and applied strong stimulants, but without effect. Deceased was a short-card player, by which he earned a living for years. He has been in Reno about four months, having come from Susanville. He has a brother either in Red Bluff or San Francisco. Deceased was over 50 years of age. He leaves no effects. Coroner Jones was notified and took the body in charge, over which he will probably hold an inquest to day, when additional facts will undoubtedly be elicited.

FINE PROSPECT.—The owners of the Monarch mine, near Pyramid Lake, are considerably elated over the prospects. The prospecting mill is busy chattering away, and a big chunk of amalgam will be brought in this evening. One hundred pounds of the rock were run through day before yesterday and seven ounces of amalgam which was run into a very little bar 945 fine yesterday was the result. Several of the principal owners leave Reno this morning for a trip to the mine. They declare that the prospect warrants them in saying that they will have one of the best mines in the State. The ore is free milling, and will work $40 to the ton. We freely admit that we believe a valuable mine is about to be opened by the Monarch Co.

CENTENNIAL LETTER.—This morning we have another splendid letter from our Philadelphia correspondent, telling of the sights to be seen in Horticultural Hall, and telling of the mineral exhibits of foreign countries. Some very curious specimens are exhibited. Read the letter.

SORTAL.—The Episcopal festival at the Opera House last evening was an enjoyable success. The ladies exerted themselves to please, and the success of the social must be attributed to their efforts.

A GOOD JOKE.—A corn doctor has been doing a good business in Reno for a few days. Yesterday he tackled the wrong customer. Going up to Dick Allen he asked him if he had any corns or bunions he wanted extracted. Dick answered in the affirmative, and going behind the counter in Beck's store, he loosened the straps which held his wooden leg on to his body. Seating himself in a chair he called upon the corn doctor to pull off his boot, and go to work. Down on his knees went the extractor of corns, and began to tug at the boot for dear life. In a minute the whole leg came off, the doctor turned pale as death, and Dick exclaimed "you have ruined me." The crowd in the store enjoyed the ludicrous scene immensely; and not a few have very sore sides to day.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Day before yesterday Mr. M. Hamilton of Washoe Valley was thrown from a wagon by some mishap and very seriously injured about the head and face, particularly about his mouth, his lower lip being cut clear through to the chin. His upper lip is also cut clear across with a slit up the side of the nose. He was picked up in a senseless condition and conveyed back to Washoe City. Dr. Dawson was sent for, who immediately went up and dressed the wounds and had him taken to Ophir where Mr. H. resides. Mr. H. is sixty-five years of age, but the doctor, finding no internal injuries, thinks that with close attention he will recover.

CARSON CELEBRATION.—Geo. B. Hill, of the Carson Invitation Committee, yesterday sent us the following dispatch: "Complete arrangements for the Centennial Fourth at Carson are being made, and we expect the people of Reno to participate; we will entertain them to the best of our ability; invitations will be forwarded in due time." The above would seem to set at rest the stories that have been afloat that Carson was making no preparations to celebrate. We believe her celebration will be the grandest of any in the State. Let Reno extend a helping hand, and we are sure it will be like casting bread upon the waters.

ROLL OF HONOR.—The following is the report and roll of honor of Brown's school, taught by E. C. McClellan, for the month ending May 26th, 1876: Whole number of scholars enrolled, 18; average number belonging, 17 1/2; average daily attendance, 13 1/2; percentage of attendance on the whole number belonging, 78; whole number of days attendance, 272 1/2. The following is a list of scholars standing over 90 per cent.: Albert Brown, 98; Willie Barney, 90; William Harden, 90; Letta Howard, 90; Mary McKinnon, 90.

Big Locomotive Coming.—A new locomotive has been ordered by the V. & T. R. R. Co., which will be the largest ever yet put on the line. It will be built at the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia. The driving wheel is to be five feet in diameter. This big engine will be required to pull the passenger trains on the road, which have become quite heavy of late on account of the increase of travel.

BOARD OF TRADE.—At the meeting of the Board of Trade last evening the President was authorized to take some action looking to the removal of the obstructions from Virginia street. It was also decided that a public meeting of the citizens of Reno be called for the purpose of getting an expression of public sentiment concerning the propriety of a Fourth of July celebration.

CLUB PARTY.—The Riverside Club intend to close the dancing season in fine style, by giving a select party at Dyer's Hall on Monday evening, to which the intimate friends of the members will be invited. The Riverside has been one of the most successful clubs of Reno, and will probably reorganize for the Fall and Winter season.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.—The State Board of Education convened in Carson at 11 a. m. yesterday, the full Board being present. Messrs. Whitaker, Flint, Howe and Professor Jones were present, and advocated the adoption of the Pacific Coast readers. The Sheldon Readers were adopted, General Day voting in the negative.
